

1. LOVE

1) Where there is love, there is no darkness.

Meaning:-

Heaven is a place where there is complete love. Hell is where love is lacking. That's why a relationship or place where there is no real love is full of hell. Love is light!

2) The way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

Meaning:-

A man will fall in love with a woman who is a great cook (or) a woman can make a man fall in love with her by cooking him delicious food.

3) There is no difference between a wise man and a fool when they fall in love.

Meaning:-

Regardless of how intelligent a person may be, when in love the heart rules over the brain. Love can make a wise man or woman act foolishly.

4) Love will find a way.

Meaning:-

Love has such power that it will overcome all difficulties.

5) Two shorten the road.

Meaning:-

It means that long journeys feel shorter when done with another person, and that life is more enjoyable with companionship, especially when it is with someone who you love.

6) Opposites attract.

Meaning:-

Two people who are in love but who have opposite personalities, interests or backgrounds.

7) Beauty is in the eye of the beholder.*Meaning:-

People say this proverb when they are perplexed as to why a person is in love with another person. In this case, beauty could be physical, intellectual, emotional, personality-related or something else.

8) The heart wants what it wants.*Meaning:-

It means that a person can't necessarily help whom he or she falls in love with; sometimes there is no logical explanation for the attraction.

9) Love is blind.*Meaning:-

A person who is blind in love fails to see any faults in the person they are in love with. This proverb is often used by friends or family members who can clearly see the bad parts of a relationship that the people in love do not notice.

10) All you need is love.*Meaning:-

This proverb means that nothing in life is more important than giving and receiving love.

11) Love conquers all.*Meaning:-

The meaning behind this proverb is that love is the strongest force in the world, and nothing can overpower it.

12) Love will find a way.*Meaning:-

It means that regardless of the obstacles in place, love will always prevail in the end.

13) Love knows no bounds.*Meaning:-

This translates to mean that love is limitless. True love cannot be contained or broken by any means.

14) Blood is thicker than water.*Meaning:-

People use this to describe the bonds and loyalties found between blood family relations. It states that the bonds of family are stronger and more important than any other type of relationship.

15) Home is where the heart is.*Meaning:-

This proverb explains how your home is the place your heart is drawn to. This place may or may not be where you grew up. In this proverb, home can be a specific location or when you are with particular people.

16) You can choose your friends, but you can't choose your family.*Meaning:-

This proverb means that while you might not like or get along with some or all of your family, you should try and accept them for who they are and as they are. Since you do not get to pick them, you just have to accept them and love them.

17) That's a face only a mother could love.*Meaning:-

The mean behind this proverb is that a mother's love of her children is strong and goes beyond physical beauty. You could even say that a mother's love is blind since she will love her children no matter what.

18) Tough love.*Meaning:-

This proverb is usually used to describe parents when they are disciplining their children. It means that sometimes, a person or parent must be severe to teach someone a valuable life lesson. The discipline or lesson taught comes from a place of love but is often unpleasant for everyone involved.

19) Happy wife, happy life.*Meaning:-

It means that by keeping one's wife happy, the spouse, in turn, will have a happier and less stressful life.

20) You can't love until you love yourself.*Meaning:-

The meaning behind this proverb about love is that loving yourself is very important. Before you can truly love someone else, you must first know, accept and love yourself.

21) Love yourself or no one else will.*Meaning:-

This proverb means that no one else will be able to fully love you until you first love yourself.

22) Wanting to be someone else is a waste of the person you are.*Meaning:-

It means that you are who you are, whether you like it or not. Therefore, you might as well accept and embrace yourself rather than wasting time wishing you were someone else.

23) Lend yourself to others, but give yourself to yourself.*Meaning:-

It means that you should not give all of your love away since you also need your own love.

24) Love thyself.*Meaning:-

Short, sweet and to the point. This proverb means that you should love and accept yourself for who you are.

25) Trust me, but look to thyself.*Meaning:-

While you should trust others, you should first trust yourself and your instincts.

26) All is fair in love and war.*Meaning:-

When it comes to love and war, apparently nothing is out of bounds. If someone does something terrible, it is more justified and potentially forgivable if it was done in the name of love or while at war.

27) Love hurts.*Meaning:-

This proverb applies to the emotional pain and stress experienced when one loses a lover or has a huge argument with someone they love.

28) There are plenty more fish in the sea.*Meaning:-

People commonly say this to someone after a breakup to remind them that there are many other eligible people available.

29) If you love someone, let them go. If they come back to you, they were really yours.*Meaning:-

The meaning behind this proverb is that you cannot force someone to love you. If you truly love someone, you must be willing to let them go. In the end, if they truly love you back, they will return to you.

30) Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned.*Meaning:-

This means you should beware of a woman who has been rejected or betrayed in love, as the wrath that can follow is worse than hell.

31) Time heals all wounds.*Meaning:-

This proverb applies to many situations. However, it is frequently said when lovers split, or a loved one has passed away. With time, the emotional pain of heartbreak is said to fade.

32) Marriage is forever.*Meaning:-

There is no cure for love other than marriage.

33) Cold hands, warm heart.*Meaning:-

People whose hands are usually cold have kind and loving personalities.